Leo Korman

Associate

Leo Korman is an Associate at Glavin PLLC.

Leo's practice focuses on white collar criminal defense, complex civil and commercial litigation, and administrative law. Leo represents clients in a diverse collection of criminal and civil matters and investigations, including cases involving securities laws, financial and banking crimes and sanctions violations.

Prior to joining Glavin PLLC, Leo served as a New York County Assistant District Attorney assigned to the Office of the New York City Special Narcotics Prosecutor, where he investigated and prosecuted complex narcotics, money laundering and firearms cases. As a Special Narcotics Prosecutor, Leo tried multiple cases to verdict.

During law school, Leo was a research assistant to Dean Emeritus John D. Feerick in his publication on the 25th Amendment to the United States Constitution. He also participated in the Policy and Legislative Advocacy Clinic.

CONTACT

lkorman@glavinpllc.com

646.693.5505

EDUCATION

- Fordham Law School, J.D. Editor, Brendon Moore Trial Advocates
- Yeshiva University, B.S.

ADMISSIONS

- New York
- U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York
- U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of New York